

Washington's Public Baccalaureate Universities and College Join the Common App July 2022

We are proud to announce that Washington's public, four-year universities and college have joined the Common App, and expect to offer the application this fall. The Common App is a college application platform used by over 900 universities and more than three million applicants, teachers, counselors, and advisors across all 50 United States and around the world each year.

This will allow students and families to have the option of completing a single admissions application for our state's public, four-year institutions for fall 2023. This marks another change by our sector that reflects our continual commitment to work together to reduce barriers to college and increase the college going culture in Washington.

Together, we have implemented holistic admissions reviews, permanently moved to test optional admission policies, and engaged in admission initiatives to reach students who may not have considered college. We continue to reaffirm our sector's commitment to reduce barriers for students and embrace long-term changes that best serve our students and the state.
